Call for Papers – 2020 UT Dallas PM Symposium
“Transforming Project Management for Rapid Results: Agile, Flexible and Strategic”

When: May 18-19, 2020
Where: Naveen Jindal School of Management, UT Dallas campus, 800 W. Campbell Road, Richardson, Texas, 75080, USA

Benefits for presenters:
- Free attendance ($500 value)
- Professional Development Units (PDUs) to maintain credentials
- Visibility for yourself and your organization
- Recognition and Networking

Dates
- Abstracts due now through January 20, 2020
- Selections announced by February 21, 2020
- Finished papers due April 15, 2020
- PowerPoint presentations due April 30, 2020

Requirements
- 250-word abstract
- Learning objectives
- PMI Knowledge Triangle classification
- Speaker’s bio + photo

If your abstract is selected for presentation at the event, you will be notified by February 21, 2020. Presenters will be expected to develop an original paper in a standard format, prepare a PowerPoint presentation, and deliver a 45-minute presentation.

Topics
Abstracts will be selected through a blind review process for relevance, interest and relationship to the symposium theme.

Of greatest interest are new ideas, tools, case studies, and lessons learned associated with the following topics:

- Cross organization or business collaboration
- Digital transformation
- Cybersecurity
- Digital workforce (IA, AI, RPA, BPM, Data Mining, Machine learning, etc.)
- Entrepreneurial project management
- Responsiveness to external factors or regulatory requirements
- Agility or flexibility in project management
- Agile or flexible program or project leadership
- Rapid organizational change management
- Hybrid project management process innovations
- Product ownership or management
- DevOps / Rapid delivery
- High Performing teams
- Design thinking / user experience (UX)
- Strategic project management

References: