

DRIVING INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IN NORTH TEXAS

September 27, 2023
8:00 am – 2:00 pm
(including lunch)

University of Texas at Dallas
Naveen Jindal School of Management

Executive Dining Room
800 West Campbell Road
Richardson, Texas 75080-3021

For registration information,
click here or scan the code below:

For more information,
please contact:
Hubert.Zydorek@UTDallas.edu

You are invited to a Symposium on Driving International Economic Development in North Texas, hosted by the Center for Global Business at the University of Texas at Dallas.

This event will bring together key stakeholders of the North Texas International Business Ecosystem to discuss current trends and strategies for attracting international businesses to our region.

Join representatives from higher education institutions, economic development organizations, non-profit associations, chambers of commerce, industry associations, cultural organizations, and professional service providers for a discussion on how these Eco-Partners can work together to make North Texas a top choice of location for these international businesses.

Keynote address: Chris Wallace, President & CEO

Panel Discussion Content:

- Economic development organizations:
 - Challenges & needs that they encounter when attracting international-based companies
 - Working together to strengthen the attraction to North Texas
- Universities/Colleges:
 - Support programs for international-based companies entering the North Texas Region
- Not-for-profit & for-profit organizations:
 - Support for international-based businesses entering the North Texas Region
- Japanese companies:
 - How we keep North Texas highly attractive to those companies

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT DALLAS
Naveen Jindal School of Management
Center for Global Business